

nishments of our Sins,
 search and try our Ways, and turn again to the Lord: O be thou pleased to grant us this one grand fundamental Mercy, that we who so impatiently thirst after a Change without us, may render that possible and safe by this better and more necessary Change within us; that our Sins may not, as they have so often done, interpose and eclipse that Light which now begins to break out upon us.
 Lord, thy Dove seems to

to approach us with an Olive-Branch in her Mouth: O let not our Faith and Noisomness chase her away; but grant us that true Repentance which may atone thee, and that Christian Charity which may reconcile us with one another. Lord, let not our Breach either with thee, or among ourselves, be incurable, but by making up the first, prepare us for the Healing of the latter. And because, O Lord, the Way to make us one
 Fold